

Nicholas' Manifesto
For Chair of the English Young Liberals

With a picture of me giving a speech to the side

Calm, Measured and Sequential

1. Support Regional Chairs I believe that Regional Chairs form a crucial part of the bedrock of the Young Liberals, and I will work my little socks off to ensure that everyone has the backing, resources and guidance to confidently campaign and develop in the English Young Liberals and to grow our relationship with the English Party. This also involves working on increasing our diversity to make EYL accessible to all. I know from being a regional chair how important it was to have a supportive chair and Executive to help navigate many situations and opportunities I found myself in and I eager to offer such support.
2. Grow and Use our Income In securing the English Party grant - an essential part of the Young Liberals' financial foundation - I will make the case to increase this
However, how we use our funds is just as important. By working with your Regional Chair to identify your branch's needs, I will highlight available funding and provide support in creating successful funding applications, using my outside experience from writing many past successful charitable bid applications.
Using these resources to help branches grow after a successful General Election is essential. Beyond branches, it's also important for YL Regional Chairs to have access to funding for organising regional events and initiatives.
3. Good Communications I've also learnt a dickens of a lot in the whirlwind of being the Co-Elections Officer during the General Election. I really appreciate how important it is getting internal comms between our fantastic regional chairs is and I will ensure that I bring transparency between all actions of the YL Executive concerning our regions.

Some of my lovely and gorgeous supporters :)

CLlr Sam Cumber – previous London YL Chair

“Nicholas has been committed to EYL and YL and would make a fantastic EYL Chair. He has the expertise!”

Maddie Waller – Treasurer, Kings College London Liberal Democrats

” When I think of YL, I think of Nicholas! He has been very active in YL over the years, including in his current role as Co-Elections officer. I am very confident that Nicholas will make a great English YL Chair.”

Miguel Smith – Young Liberals Elections Officer

“Nicholas is right the candidate to chair EYL - being a committed doorstep campaigner he has the drive to develop a strong, supportive and effective EYL Exec”
