

Bex for Federal Council

Selfie of Bex wearing a lib dem pin badge.

Who am I?

I joined the party in September 2016 and have been involved in YL since then.

I studied Politics at the University of York and have since moved back to London for work.

As an openly Non-binary person I have been a loud and proud advocate for trans rights since joining the party.

My experience

- I have served on local party and university society's executives
- I also served a term on FCC the party's conference committee and GPSC which is a sub-committee of FCC.

Why you should vote for me

When the party changed the constitution to form the Federal Council, whose role is to scrutinise the decisions of the Federal Board, Federal Council quietly became a very important committee. It is Federal Council that can call into question decisions taken by the Board and are also the sole committee with the power to overturn them. In Federal Council meetings I will be an advocate for both the trans community and Young Liberals ensuring the party remembers our importance.
