

Plain Text Manifesto

Orange and white background

JOSHUA HALL

For Communications and Campaigns committee

Manifesto 2024

Picture of Joshua Hall to the right with a pink border

About me

Hi, I'm Joshua and I am hoping to be elected as part of the YL Communications and Campaigns Committee. I am currently studying A Levels at Sixth Form, meaning I am very capable at keeping on top of a large workload and finishing tasks on time. If I were to be elected, the role would be a very substantial priority to me. Since it would be my first role within the Young Liberals, I shall be incredibly willing to demonstrate my ability and commitment to this organisation

My policies (bullet pointed)

- 1.) Plans to engage younger audiences I would ensure that we maintain a regular output of social media posts in order to entice potential members into joining the Young Liberals. This would include showcasing the vast range of opportunities and benefits of joining
- .2.) Responding to feedback Guarantee that we have a method of accepting feedback from YL members, both through responding to social media comments and through our emails. Then, pass on these comments to the relevant YL executive. Ensure rapid responses to all member queries by creating a distinct email where members can send in anything they are struggling with/would like to know more about.
- 3.) Networking Provide new members with access links to a selection of YL forums and Social Media accounts that can help them meet others in our community. 4.) New roles Include regular updates of new volunteering and action days/work experience opportunities to all members 5.) Establishing strong connections locally Guide other regional YL organisations on how to engage with local issues, and present these online to their members, increasing their role and ability to help out.

To the left, the young liberals logo