

ARTIE KHOVANOV for SYL Vice Chair / SYL Campaigns Officer

Reach our voters

So many young people across Scotland share our liberal values, and we need to do better at reaching them. We need to be visible at pride marches, at trans rights protests, at pro-EU demonstrations. We need to be vocal about our plan to end the housing crisis. I will work to make this happen.

Grow our branches

At the start of this academic year, we had no active university branches; many students' idea of the Lib Dems is stuck in 2015. I will work with liberal-minded students across Scotland to set up and grow branches, and coordinate our message, so that we can take full advantage of this unique opportunity to reach young people.

Champion our priorities

Too often, young people feel our party doesn't reflect their priorities. I will make sure our voice is heard within the party so that young people across Scotland can hear our message to them.

About Me

I'm a PhD student in Informatics at the University of Edinburgh. I only joined the party this year! My experience as Returning Officer at Cambridge SU, as well as within activism more generally, has shown me that many young people are like I was — they share our liberal values, but have never considered our party.
