

Manifesto for Prem Raghvani (plaintext counterpart)

Prem 4 Comms

(Supplied with a photo of me, wearing glasses and a black shirt)

Hello, I'm Prem. and running to be your next YL Communications Officer. I am currently a Maths with Computer Science and Economics student at Durham (sounds bad, is bad), and the president of the society there!

Prior Experiences

- (i) Member of the Communications & Campaigns Committee (2024-25), and have helped create some of the content (video and graphics) you may have seen on YL Social Media accounts!
- (ii) North East Chair (English Young Liberals) & President of the Durham University Liberal Association - creating some of the content you can see there!
- (iii) Computer Programming - known for making random "bodged" solutions to solve a problem - whether that be with emails, or converting files into accessible formats, trust me, I will utilise this skill for the good of comms!

My Pledges to You

- (i) Delegate, Delegate, Delegate - there are three directly elected members on the committee. Why not see what they are good at, and get as much content made as possible, by delegating by their expertise?
- (ii) Accessibility - by considering moving away from PDF files (even for "plaintext" versions), and more to HTML - after all, it is far more accessible.
- (iii) Bombarding Your Inbox - okay, maybe not that extreme, but aiming to get as many emails out, updating you on what's happening, any training, and any resources available. Though - not making emails too long.

So, what's stopping you?

IG / Twitter: @premraghvani

FB: premraghvani

DMs open!